SAINTS PETER AND PAUL, APOSTLES

"You are Peter, and upon this rock I will build my Church, and the gates of the netherworld shall not prevail against it. I will give you the keys to the Kingdom of heaven. Whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." - Mt 16:18-19

SAINTS PETER AND PAUL, APOSTLES

29 June

FEAST DAY OF STS. PETER AND PAUL, APOSTLES!

It often makes us wonder how buildings of tens or even hundred of stories can stand tall and secure even with earthquakes or the daily weight the structure bears. But we know that this is possible because there are main pillars that are so constructed as to be able to support the weight of the whole building. The bigger and the stronger these pillars, the more likely the buildings last or withstand the forces of nature.

So also, with social groups like families or the Church. In the family, the parents serve as the Pillars that support the family. The father is often given pride of place as the pillar, but in reality, the mother, too, is the equally a pillar. In fact, the absence of the mother makes or breaks the family. but as a whole, the two of them mostly work together if the family is to stand and remain strong.

Today, in the Church, we celebrate the feast of the two pillar-apostles: Sts. Peter and Paul. Each had a different background, one from the countryside, and the other from the city. Peter, originally a fisherman, was appointed leader of the Twelve and designated as the rock (“kephas”) upon which Jesus would build his Church. St. Paul, formerly a tent maker, a Pharisee, and persecutor of the Church, was especially chosen to bring the good news of salvation to the Gentiles. They were chosen as pillars, probably not because they were perfect or because of their outstanding qualities, but because weak as they were, God saw potential in them for leadership and pastoral care, not to mention zeal. Once they opened themselves more and more to God’s grace, they became even stronger pillars and reliable leaders.

Nowadays, we thank God that he continually blesses the Church with good and strong pillars in our Pope, bishops, priests and lay leaders. They, like Peter and Paul, are also human, with their own strengths and weaknesses but by God’s grace are helped to overcome their weaknesses and endowed with wisdom and pastoral care over those entrusted to their care. In civil society, too, we choose “pillars” upon whom we can depend for the promotion of the common good. Unfortunately, not all of them are good examples, although we also have very dedicated and self-sacrificing ones. That is why it is very important to scrutinize well who we will put into office.

May the example of Sts. Peter and Paul who both gave their lives for the faith inspire the Church and civil leaders, so that the flock entrusted to their care can progress and live in peace and security.

Blessing—Fr Dox

Independence Day – A Time for Gratitude and Prayer

As we celebrate the birth of our nation this July 4th, let us give thanks to God for the many blessings we enjoy—especially the gift of religious freedom. May we remember that true liberty is not only a civic right but a spiritual calling: to live as disciples of Christ, guided by truth, justice, and love. Let us pray for our country, for those who serve and lead, and for peace and unity among all people. “Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord” (Psalm 33:12).

COMING SOON!!

We have purchased a Columbarium.

What is a columbarium?

Our church columbarium provides a peaceful, sacred space for the respectful interment of cremated remains. It offers a comforting place for families and loved ones to honor and remember those who have gone before us in faith. Located near the 3-stall garage, the columbarium serves as a lasting testament to our belief in eternal life and the enduring connection within our parish community.
